

LITURGICAL COLORS

May 2018 - December 2019

The liturgical colors of the Christian year are white, purple, red and green. White is used for special days or seasons in the redemptive work of Jesus Christ, such as Christmas and Easter. Where dates appear on a white background, the liturgical color is white. Purple marks the seasons of penitence and preparation, Advent and Lent. (Blue may also be used for Advent.) Red is the color for Pentecost and is often used for ordination services. Red or purple is appropriate for Palm/Passion Sunday. During Holy Week, the color is purple until the church is stripped at the end of the Maundy Thursday service. The church remains bare (gray) until the Easter Vigil/Easter; however, some congregations use black or deep scarlet. Green is used for all other time periods (called Ordinary Time) not marked by a specific festival or season. Congregations can use the colors with some flexibility. The meanings of liturgical colors and their uses offered here are not exhaustive.
